

DOUG PERKINS' material from SPORTS SHOW WITH NORM MACDONALD

JOKES

A-Rod Movie Star – Cameron Diaz is developing a movie that would take place in the world of Major League Baseball and she wants her boyfriend Alex Rodriguez to star in it. You can read my review for the film in Norm Macdonald's Suicide Note.

The NFL Draft – The NFL draft is coming up, one of the few days in this country where it's still okay for rich white men to bid on strong athletic black men.

Michael Jordan Steakhouse – Michael Jordan is opening a steakhouse bearing his name in a downtown Chicago hotel. Jordan is hoping the restaurant will be a success, at the very least he's hoping it will do better than "Bill Wennington's Rest Stop Waffles."

Michael Vick – Professional dog abuser and NFL Quarterback Michael Vick has made it into the sweet sixteen of fan voting to see who will be on the Madden 2012 cover. Members of PETA are very upset, they think if dogs were able to vote for the cover, Vick wouldn't stand a chance. I got news for you PETA, if dogs could vote, the Madden cover would be the least of our worries.

Bomb Scare – Earlier today there was a bomb scare at the Tampa Bay Rays' stadium. Luckily, through the use of a machine that is never clearly explained, 3rd basemen Evan Longoria was able to go back in time, but for only eight minutes at a time, and figure out through each eight minute visit to the past where the bomb was and who had put it there. Longoria was also able to rescue the beautiful Michelle Monaghan from certain death, if you think that story sounds ridiculous then you should try watching the movie Source Code...In theaters now.

Cubs go to Fenway – The Chicago Cubs went to Fenway Park for the first time since the 1918 World Series and to commemorate the event they reunited all the players from the original 1918 teams in a big pile in centerfield.

The Macho Man – Randy Savage passed away after suffering a heart attack while driving and then crashing into a tree. Luckily, right before he slipped into oblivion, Macho Man was able to tag in Hillbilly Jim.

Nude Olympics – The 2011 nude Olympics are being held in Queensland Australia this week. Let me just say this, if the Nude Olympic Committee is looking for where to hold the 2012 games, look no further than MY APARTMENT.

Doug Flutie's Daughter Alexis Flutie, daughter of retired NFL quarterback Doug Flutie is now a cheerleader for the New England Patriots. Say it with me crowd: Give me an "I" (Crowd responds, "I") Now give me a "want to have sex with her!"

Tiki Barber – Former Giants running back Tiki Barber, who cheated on his pregnant wife with a young intern, has come out and said that the intern has made him a better person. Well Tiki, It's not hard to become a better person when your starting point is CHEATING ON YOUR PREGNANT WIFE.

Steven Seagal – Actor Steven Seagal, an active teacher of Aikido, is being tight-lipped about a new technique he's teaching some MMA fighters that he claims will revolutionize the sport. And being tight-lipped isn't easy for Seagal, since he's constantly stuffing his face with succulent meats and cheeses. (picture of fat Seagal)

Dykstra – Former Philadelphia Philly and suspected embezzler Lenny Dykstra hired a cleaning lady via Craigslist, but when the woman arrived at his home Dykstra apparently stripped naked and demanded she give him a massage. I've got one thing to say to Lenny Dykstra: HEY! quit stealing my moves.

Haynesworth – NFL Defensive Lineman Albert Haynesworth was arrested on Sexual Abuse charges this past week after being accused of sliding a credit card through a woman's cleavage. What the hell's going on this week? Everyone's stealing my moves.

Indians 30 dollar beer – Progressive Stadium, home of the Cleveland Indians is now offering a beer at their stadium that costs 30 dollars. This is part of a move by the Indians to attract a classier clientele, which may help explain Grady Sizemore Monocle night.

Kobe Bryant – After receiving a technical foul, Kobe Bryant returned to the bench and appeared to utter the phrase "Fucking Faggot" in reference to the referee. But in Kobe's defense he was referring to NBA Thai Referee Pho-King Phei-Got.

REFILLABLES, BUMPERS and SKETCHES

VIA SATELLITE INTERVIEW with LANCE ARMSTRONG'S REFRIGERATOR.

Tyler Hamilton, a teammate of cyclist Lance Armstrong told 60 minutes that Armstrong quote "did what we all did" endquote and that he saw performance enhancing drugs in Armstrong's refrigerator. Here to refute these rumors, ladies and gentleman, please welcome Lance Armstrong...s refrigerator. (The fridge appears via satellite and talks like a large black man as refrigerators do.)

Norm: Welcome to the show Lance Armstrong's Refrigerator. So what do you have to say about Hamilton's allegations?

Fridge: MAN, I ain't never had no performance enhancing drugs inside my fat ass. Does it look like I'm on the juice, good lord. I'm just a fridge trying to keep stuff cold.

Norm: Yes, but one of your owner's teammates said he saw some EPO in you.

Fridge: EPO, Norm please, E-P-O, I don't even know what that is. I know what goddam sour cream is, I know what apple juice is, but I ain't got no goddamn idea what EPO is.

Norm: So you admit you may not even know if there was EPO inside you, because you don't know what it looks like.

Fridge: What Norm you think I got root beer flavored popsicles for brains? I know what gets put into my body, and there ain't no EPO up in here, not in my crisper, not in my meat drawer not even in my big ass butter keeper.

Norm: Okay okay, gotcha. By the way Lance Armstrong's fridge, how do you have the ability to talk?

Fridge: Lance Armstrong is very rich.

Norm: Thank you Lance Armstrong's Refrigerator.

MIKE TYSON'S LONG ENTRANCE TO THE SPORTS SHOW DESK (This could work in Act IV, teasing Tyson throughout the show).

Norm introduces Mike Tyson: "Ladies and Gentleman, here to talk about the state of the heavyweight division in boxing, is the former unified Heavyweight Champion of the world, the baddest man on the planet, Iron Mike Tyson!"

Cut to the outside of a dressing room, the door opens, entrance music starts playing. Lil' Wayne starts leading an entourage of people out of Tyson's dressing room. It's like Tyson is coming out of the locker room before the biggest fight of his career. He's wearing a robe, jumping up and down, and taking forever. His entourage is carrying flags behind him, and then from out of nowhere Jim Lampley and Larry Merchant chime in.

Lampley :“He looks good doesn't he Larry? Confident, focused. I think we're in for a good desk piece.”

Merchant: “A man looking to make a name for himself in the later stages. A man who has made the trip from hero to villain back to hero many times in his career.”

Cutting back to Norm throughout, wondering what's taking so fucking long, he just wants Tyson to come out and talk about boxing. Tyson continues to slowly make his way to the desk. Once he's there, his trainer checks him, slaps him a couple of times in the face, and removes his robe. Tyson is wearing a suit underneath. He sits down.

Norm: "What the hell was that?"

Tyson: "What?"

Norm: "Was all that really necessary?"

Tyson: "I'm ready, ready to talk about boxing."

Norm: "Well we can't, we're out of time. Iron Mike Tyson everybody. Ladies and gentleman that's it for Sports Show."

BUMPER IDEA: UNEDUCATED BASEBALL PLAYER TALKS ABOUT THE HISTORY OF THE GAME. These should be really good looking interviews to counteract the stupidity.

INTERVIEW 1: Baseball began in simpler times, before cars, before airplanes, before even television. The year was 1957.

INTERVIEW 2: Baseball was invented by a man named Keith. He was sleeping when his house was broken into and luckily he had a baseball bat near his bed and he was able to fend off the intruder, then he thought to himself, "Hey wait a minute, baseball."

INTERVIEW 3: Baseball really started to take off around the turn of the century, when a fisherman in Dayton, Ohio caught a Marlin and started the Dayton Marlins, they would later become the Florida Marlins.

GARBAGE TIME (A segment at the end of the show where Norm would read as many short random jokes that he could fit in before time ran out)

- If I was trapped on a deserted island and I could only bring one sport with me, I'd bring competitive sailing.

- The Olympic Committee is set to add Five New Events to the 2014 Winter Olympics. (Norm crosses his fingers) "C'mon Ice Fucking!"

- People say there's no I in team, and I say, WHAT? I've been spelling it wrong all these years?

- I'll never forget when I went to the doctor in 1988, I was acting all crazy, and they ran a bunch of tests, and sure enough, one of the tests came back positive for Hulkamania.

- You know who would be like the best basketball player ever? A ten-foot tall guy with great hands and incredible athleticism, just saying.

- You never say a horse is retarded; the correct phrase is Churchill Down's Syndrome.

- I bet professional bowlers get sick of helping people roll things around all the time.

- In all my days spent upon 'The Baltic Queen', not once did I long for the company of a lady, because my friends, being on the open ocean is the prettiest lady of all.